15.Multidisciplinary / interdisciplinary

a) Vision for Transformation: The institution envisions transforming itself into a holistic multidisciplinary institution by redefining its educational goals and strategies. This includes fostering an environment that encourages the convergence of various disciplines, breaking down silos, and promoting collaboration among faculties from different backgrounds. b) The institution has developed a comprehensive approach to integrate humanities and science, such as "Science and Society" that explore the ethical, social, and cultural implications of scientific advancements. c) The institution offers flexible and innovative curricula that incorporate environmental education, and values-based education. d) The institution's plan for a multidisciplinary flexible curriculum allows students to accommodate diverse learning paths. e) The institution is committed to promoting multidisciplinary research to address society's pressing challenges. f) The institution has already initiated several good practices to promote multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary approaches. The institution organizes seminars and workshops that encourage faculty and students to explore interdisciplinary themes.

16.Academic bank of credits (ABC):

Institutions can empower faculties by providing them with the autonomy to design their own pedagogical approaches within the broad guidelines set by the institution. This autonomy can stimulate creativity and innovation in teaching and learning. Offer faculty development programs and workshops to enhance their curriculum design and pedagogical skills. This can include training on the use of technology, active learning techniques, and student-centered approaches. Constructive feedback can help refine and improve these approaches. Ensure that faculties have access to a variety of resources, including libraries, online databases, and teaching materials, to aid in their curriculum and textbook selections.

17.Skill development:

The institution offers a range of skill-based courses that are designed to enhance students' vocational skills, such as technical training, computer skills, Soft skills like communication, teamwork, problem-solving, and adaptability are integrated into the curriculum to make students more employable.

18.Appropriate integration of Indian Knowledge system (teaching in Indian Language, culture, using online course)

Develop a curriculum that incorporates Indian knowledge systems, teachings, and values. This should include subjects related to Indian philosophy, history, art, culture, and traditional sciences. Offer courses in Indian languages, alongside English, to cater to the diverse linguistic backgrounds of students. Ensure that course materials are available in multiple languages. Include modules or courses on Indian culture, customs, and traditions. Encourage students to participate in cultural events and festivals Invite experts in Indian knowledge systems to conduct guest lectures and workshops. This provides students with exposure to practitioners of traditional knowledge

19.Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):

Outcome-based education (OBE) is an educational approach that focuses on defining specific learning outcomes or objectives for student teachers and then designing curriculum, assessments, and teaching methods to help student teachers achieve those outcomes. This approach is not limited to any specific level of education but can be applied to various educational programs, including B.Ed (Bachelor of Education) colleges. It Emphasises Setting Learning outcomes, developing assessment methods, active teaching- learning strategies, feedback mechanism and monitoring and evaluation of students achievements by bringing adapatability.

20.Distance education/online education:

Open and distance learning has been used to support teachers' career development both through structured programmes, designed for specific groups of teachers, and by providing opportunities for individual teachers to raise the level of their own qualifications our institute encourages student teachers to continue education through SWYAM MOOC and other online platforms.

4.2 - Library as a Learning Resource

4.2.1 - Institution has adopted automation of library using Integrated Library Management System (ILMS) or any other software Describe the features of Library Automation in not more than 100 – 200 words.

Our college library is computerized with e-library facilities with more than 10,000 books, volumes, national periodicals, journals and magazines. It has a photocopier machine for the convenience of faculty and students. Library automation is a general term for ICT trends and techniques used to replace manual systems in libraries. We are using a common database (for documents and patrons) to perform all the basic functions of the library.

Available software: Inflibnet

The library has a rich reference collection i.e. encyclopedia, student encyclopedia Britannica, journals, books and other reference materials.

We have CD/DVD based electronic resources in our library. Provision is made for admission of students. Magazines related to the field of education give more importance to the information and magazines related to competitive examinations in order to inculcate the competitive spirit of the students.

The library includes internet and printing facilities to enable teachers and students to download and print the information they need from reference books and online. With these facilities available to us, teachers and students are given free space to use the library effectively.

Describe one decision based on the minutes of the meetings of various Bodies / Cells / Committees which is successfully implemented in not more than 100 - 200 words.

Statutory bodies have been created to formulate quality standards at IQAC level keeping in mind the future challenges of our college and keeping in view the educational challenges, state/national goals and institutional vision and mission. We have a UG curriculum and the major change in its management is that the College Board at various levels may decide on the procedures to be adopted on a case-by-case basis, keeping in mind the regulations and UGC guidelines, state directives and university recommendations.

The modus operandi of offline and online classes was planned quite systematically in case of unforeseen, undesired covid situations.

Keeping in view the future vision of the students in Covid situations, teaching-learning was conducted in our college in collaboration with IT for Change NGO using Webinar (BBB), Zoom, Google Classroom as per the need in which the role of the management board was important. This prevented students from being deprived of learning.

6.3.5 - The institution has a performance appraisal system for teaching and non-teaching staff Describe the process of performance appraisal system for teaching and non-teaching staff in not more than 100 - 200 words.

All qualified teaching staff including the Principal of the College shall be allowed to participate actively in matters relating to examinations and results. The staff will be provided opportunity to participate in question paper preparation activities in a trusted confidential manner and participate in periodic meeting discussions with the Controller of Examinations and Examination Assistants to gain expertise. So that they are able to effectively manage internal and external evaluation by performance. And the self-evaluation report is also helpful for the faculty to prepare as per UGC norms. The performance of each staff member is evaluated annually as per established criteria after completion of each year of service. Not only can their performance be evaluated objectively, but the success of any institution depends on the quality of its teaching. It is teaching and non-teaching staff. Through performance appraisal our institute assesses the capacity of its faculty and helps them perform their duties more effectively. Evaluation reports are feedback to faculty and provide insight into their further development and help them identify ways to improve their knowledge and skills. Annual performance appraisal organization has a format and the final appraisal report is prepared after analysis of this data.

6.4.3 - Institutional strategies for mobilization of funds and the optimal utilization of resources are in place. Describe the procedure of mobilization of funds and its optimal utilization in not more than 100 - 200 words.

Assessment of Financial Needs: Begin by assessing the organization's financial requirements for various activities and projects. This involves forecasting expenses and identifying sources of income.

Diversification of Funding Sources: Seek funding from a mix of sources, including government grants, donations, investments, loans, and revenue generation from services or products. Diversification reduces dependency on a single source.

Strategic Planning: Develop a strategic financial plan that outlines short-term and long-term goals, financial objectives, and a timeline for achieving them. This plan serves as a roadmap for fund allocation.

Fundraising Initiatives: Implement fundraising campaigns, events, and activities to attract donors, investors, and sponsors. Utilize digital platforms and social media for wider reach.

Financial Management: Maintain meticulous financial records, budgeting, and tracking of expenses. Allocate funds judiciously to prioritize core activities and projects that align with the institution's mission.

Monitoring and Evaluation: Regularly monitor financial performance, comparing actual results to the budget. Make necessary adjustments to optimize resource allocation.

Transparency and Accountability: Communicate financial information transparently to stakeholders and donors, demonstrating responsible resource management..

By adhering to these steps, institutions can mobilize funds effectively and ensure their optimal utilization, contributing to sustainable growth and mission fulfillment.

6.5 - Internal Quality Assurance System

6.5.1 - Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) or any other mechanism has contributed significantly for institutionalizing the quality assurance strategies Describe the process adopted by the institution for quality assurance through IQAC or any other mechanism in not more than 100 - 200 words

Establishment of IQAC: The institution established an IQAC comprising experienced faculty members and administrative staff responsible for overseeing quality assurance activities.

Self-Assessment: IQAC initiates a comprehensive self-assessment process where various aspects of the institution, including curriculum, teaching methods, infrastructure, and governance, are evaluated against predefined quality parameters.

Criteria and Benchmarks: IQAC sets specific quality criteria and benchmarks in consultation with stakeholders, aligning them with national and international standards to ensure excellence.

Data Collection: Data is collected through surveys, feedback from students, faculty, and stakeholders, as well as academic performance metrics.

Analysis and Action Plans: IQAC analyzes the data, identifies areas of improvement, and formulates action plans to address deficiencies. It encourages continuous improvement through workshops, training, and faculty development programs.

Monitoring and Review: Regular monitoring and review of action plans are conducted to track progress and make necessary adjustments.

Documentation: The IQAC maintains comprehensive records of its activities, findings, and outcomes to demonstrate its commitment to quality assurance.

Through these processes, the institution has successfully institutionalized quality assurance strategies, leading to continuous improvement and the delivery of high-quality education and services.

6.5.5 - Institutions keeps track of the incremental improvements achieved in academic and administrative domains of its functioning through quality assurance initiatives For first cycle: Describe two examples to show incremental improvements achieved within the institution during the year in not more than 100 - 200 words each For second and subsequent cycles: Describe two examples to show incremental improvements achieved within the institution due to quality initiatives since the previous accreditation in not more than 100 - 200 words each

In the academic domain, our institution implemented a series of curriculum enhancements during the first cycle of quality assurance initiatives. In this approach, students were provided with pre-recorded lectures and reading materials before class, allowing in-person sessions to focus on active learning, discussions, and problem-solving. This change resulted in increased student engagement and deeper understanding of course content..

Additionally, the institution introduced a Learning Management System (LMS) upgrade, which streamlined course materials distribution and submission processes. This upgrade significantly improved the efficiency of academic operations, reducing administrative overhead and allowing faculty members to focus more on teaching and research..

Example 2: Administrative Domain - Digital Records Management

Within the administrative domain, the institution made notable strides in digital records management during the first cycle of quality assurance initiatives. Previously reliant on paper-based systems, the institution transitioned to a robust digital records management platform. This shift not only reduced the institution's carbon footprint but also enhanced efficiency and accessibility.

One specific achievement was the implementation of an electronic document approval system, which streamlined bureaucratic processes significantly. Faculty and staff members could now electronically submit and track administrative documents, such as purchase requisitions and leave requests.
